VOL. II. RALEIGH, N. C., WEDNESDAY EVENING, APRIL 10, 1867. NO. 207.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, PROPRIETOR.

[From the Pensacola Observer, 30th.]

PUBLIC MEETING AT PENSACOLA, FLORIDA—VIEWS OF HON. S. R. MALLORY—THE COLORED PEOPLE AROUSED.

Pursuant to a call, in our issue of the 28th, a large concourse of white and colored citizens assembled in the public square at an early hour in the evening. The meeting was organized and presided over by Hon. Charles H. Gingles.

We will not attempt to give a detailed account of the speeches, all of which tended to the same point, to impress the colored people with the injury which they were doing themselves in separating themselves from the old citizens by their secret political organizations. By a couple of evil-disposed, designing persons, in our community, they were led to believe that their rights would not be conceded to them by Southern men, and that it was necessary for them to form leagues, take oaths of secrecy, and elect one of them. This meeting had the effect of disabusing their minds on that subject, and so thoroughly exposing the contemptible objects of their white leaders, who live in the community by the money they can borrow or otherwise obtain from them, that they left with their eyes opened, discussing among themselves the truthful remarks which fell upon their ears.

Mr. Mallory, being loudly and repeatedly called upon, mounted the stand and earnestly addresed the meeting. He briefly adverted to our State, and her prostrate condition, under the recent legislation of Congress, and counselled submission in good faith. There is no degradation in the submission of a gallant people when further resistance would be madness. At the South, where negroes constitute, and specially in Florida, where they will, for yet a long period, constitute nearly a moiety of our population, the ballot, qualified or otherwise, was a natural consequence of their enfranchisement—a result which would not follow their freedom in the Northern States, where, in point of numbers, they were unimportant. As the negro was now entitled to vote, it was the interest of the State that he should be educated and enlightened, and made to comprehend the priceless value of the ballot, and the importance to himself and the State of its judicious use. The prosperity of the State must depend upon the virtue and intelligence of her people, and no wise man will hesitate to do all in his power to elevate and improve the character and condition of the colored race, between whom and the Southern people an indestructible bond of sympathy, based upon a thousand happy memories, exists.—Let us fully and frankly acknowledge, as well by deeds as by words, their equality with us, before the law, and regard it as no less just to ourselves and them than to our State and her best interest to aid in their education, elevation, and enjoyment of all the rights which follow their new condition.

He then earnestly addressed the colored people present, pointing out to them that henceforth they and the white man must tread the same onward path, and their political and industrial interests inseparably blended.

He counselled them against secret political societies, and their organization for party purposes upon the basis of race or color, as destructive of the interests alike of black and white; while they were met and treated in a spirit of manly frankness by their old masters, and by the Southern people generally, such societies were only organized by designing men to abuse their confidence for selfish ends.

He advised them to seek the best advice they could as to the question at issue, and the merits of candidates, and to cast their ballots accordingly. Referring to their late condition, he pointed out to them that with their liberty they assumed the responsibility of supporting themselves and families, educating their children, and accumulating for old age by honest industry; and that now, when the "old plantation," its smoke house and crib, were no longer a happy refuge, industry and an honest effort to show themselves worthy to be called freemen were expected of them by every friend they had, North or South.

The next speaker was J. D. Wolfe, Esq., who had served through the war in the Federal army and was an officer in a negro regiment. He depicted to them, in forcible terms, the danger of arraying themselves as a class for any man, or upon any issue, and reasoned with them upon the good which must result to them by their adopting a course which would identify them with the community with which they resided. This, he said, could only be effected by free and open intercourse, by consultation upon the leading questions of the day, and as to the fitness of the candidates who were soliciting their suffrage.

Mr. Wolfe was followed by Hays Satterwhite, a venerable colored man, who, as he said, came here from old Virginia in 1827. He said he was proud of Florida, and proud of the many white folks and gentlemen of standing, whom he knew at Tallahassee and other parts; that whether as a slave or freeman he had always been treated well, and that he did not want his colored brethren to do anything which would destroy the friendly relations which always existed. He told them he did not want to see them form separate societies; that they should consult the white folks, and look upon them as friends; that they must not run into dark holes and corners, and take the advice of those they knew nothing about, and that if they wanted to get along well "they must come out of the shade; come out in the pure air, before the light of Heaven, and be free men before God, exercise the judgment He gave them, and be no slaves as before. That day is past and gone. The light of freedom shines the same on the black man as the white man. It is the white man's interest to protect the black man, and the black man's to make friends of the white man, and vote for the best man." He concluded his speech amid shouts of applause.

Upon motion of Mr. Anderson, the meeting was adjourned to convene on Saturday night.

ASTROLOGY.

THE WORLD ASTONISHED

AT THE WONDERFUL REVELATIONS MADE BY THE GREAT ASTROLOGIST,

Madame H. A. PERRIGO,

She reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She returns to happiness those who, from doleful events, catastrophes, crosses in love, loss of relations and friends, loss of money, &c., have become despondent. She brings together those long separated, gives information concerning absent friends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, tells you the business you are best qualified to pursue and in what you will be most successful, causes speedy marriages and tells you the very day you will marry, gives you the name, likeness and characteristics of the person. She reads your very thoughts, and by her almost supernatural powers unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From the stars we see in the firmament—the male the stars that overcome or predominate in the configuration—from the aspects and positions of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she deduces the future destiny of man. Fail not to consult the greatest Astrologist on earth. It costs you but a trifle, and you may never again have so favorable an opportunity. Consultation fee, with likeness and all desired information, $1. Parties living at a distance can consult the Madame by mail with equal safety and satisfaction to themselves, as if in person. A full and explicit chart, written out, with all inquiries answered and likeness enclosed, sent by mail on receipt of the above mentioned. The strictest secrecy will be maintained, and all correspondence returned or destroyed. Inclosure of the highest order furnished those desiring them. Write plainly the day of the month and year in which you were born, enclosing a small lock of hair.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, APRIL 10, 1867.

THE YOUNG MEN OF THE SOUTH.

Scarcely any one is deprived of the right to vote, or is rendered ineligible to office, in the Southern States, who is under twenty-seven years of age. So that, so far as the white and dominant race is concerned, these important privileges are still secured to a large class of our people, and in the hands of our young men to a very considerable, indeed almost exclusive, extent, are reposed the political control of our State governments and the political destiny of the South. Perhaps this is well. The older men in the land, who have lived to see their cherished ideas of the perfection of popular and Republican government disappointed and overthrown, and who, though cotemporaneous with the earlier and better days of the government, have had their constitutional franchises as citizens broken and crushed beneath the wheels of Radical progress, have lost, in a great measure, much of their interest in public affairs, and, even if permitted so to do, have no heart, under the pressure of frustrated hopes and impaired fortunes, to participate in the direction and management of public affairs. It is only within a few days past, that we heard two gentlemen, who have heretofore occupied distinguished positions in the land, and who have, in days gone by, filled a large space in the public eye, avow their entire ignorance of the details of the recent Acts of Reconstruction. They knew that, though they had grown with the growth of the country, and had played conspicuous parts in the developement of its powers and its greatness,—though their counsels in the past had been always on the side of moderation and conservatism, and though they had no agency in bringing on the storm that has wrecked, as they believe, the fair fabric of constitutional liberty,—they were still excluded from all further share in the privileges of government, and they felt but little interest in the matter, beyond the hope that those, to whom the work was entrusted, would discharge the duty in such a manner as to redound to the benefit of posterity.—This feeling is a general one with men of this class. The chief concern with most of such is to preserve what little property is left them from the ravages of war, to comfort their declining years and to transmit to their children after them.

It is, therefore, as we have said, upon the young men of the South that is devolved the responsibility of re-building our shattered political and material fortunes, immediately, and to the generation that is growing up that is to be entrusted their further development and improvement. There is cause for congratulation in the fact that the former are, in the the main, ardent, patriotic and energetic. They have graduated in a school of adversity, endurance and discipline.—The war and its results, while they may have demoralized some, have nevertheless brought out the fullest energies and tested all the manhood of by far the greater number, and it is to be hoped that they will carry into the discharge of the new and grave obligations resting upon them the same obedience to authority, the same struggling with fate, the same power and fortitude, that made the rank and file of the Southern army the admiration of the world. They are free from the arts of the demagogue, and their ardent and unselfish natures will spurn the grovelling and ignoble appeals of interested party hacks. Above all, they will never lend their support or countenance to those who would stigmatize them as traitors, or brand the memories of their dead comrades with odium. They are, of all men, the best fitted to engage in the work of re-construction. They could have had no part in bringing on the war, but they went into it at the call of what they believed to be duty. In the brave and generous spirit of the true soldier, they accept all the issues of fair defeat, and will do nothing inconsistent with the legitimate requirements which it imposes.

It is in the same hands that is placed the still higher duty of re-invigorating the physical and material interests of our suffering land. It is, in this connection, greatly to be deplored, that the stern exactions of war should have interfered so lamentably with the educational advantages proper of our young men. But still the same severe ordeal taught them practical lessons, for which they might have looked in vain in the books of the theorist,—lessons of determination, of self-reliance, of hopefulness and of constancy—lessons, which applied in the work-shops or the factory, on the farm or in any of the industrial avocations of life, may make them the instruments, under the blessing of Providence, and in view of the thousand inviting fields of labor which our climate and soil present, the architects of a higher and nobler national destiny that we have perhaps ever dreamed of in the past.

GEN. CARR.—We regret to learn that this excellent officer has been ordered from this post to some other position. Gen. Carr has borne himself, while among us, as a soldier and a gentleman, and made a favorable impression upon our citizens.

RECONSTRUCTION ACTS.—We republish to-day the Supplemental Act to the Sherman bill. All the acts &c., pertaining to Reconstruction will be placed on the 4th page of the Sentinel, after to-day, and kept standing for a time, for the information of the people.

Some Radical members of the Connecticut Legislature attribute their signal defeat in Connecticut to the effort of Congress to force negro suffrage upon the Northern States.

GEN. SICKLES' ADMINISTRATION.

The address of Gen. Sickles, which we published yesterday, and his previous utterances, as well as other indications of his purpose to administer the duties of his position impartially and with the best intentions to meet fully the requirements of Congress, and promote, at the same time, the interests of the people of North and South Carolina, we are glad to say, confirm the opinions we expressed of the propriety and fitness of his appointment.

The policy which he has adopted, in regard to reconstruction, cannot fail to be satisfactory to all good citizens. His purpose not to administer the law as a partizan, but as a soldier, and at the same time to call to his aid the counsels of those in whom the people, white and black, have entire confidence, and to consider the claims of all classes, must meet the approbation of all.

In exercising his powers as the administrator of justice and the conserver of order, it cannot be hoped that, in every case, he can avoid the disapproval of many wise and good citizens, whose counsels are always in favor of the claims of civil law, since he is dependent for information upon so many persons of different opinions,—upon those who are much governed by the prejudices of education, by motives of selfishness or partizan zeal, many of whom occupy such relations to him as very naturally give their opinions and information much importance; yet his knowledge of the law, and his purpose to exercise humanity and mercy, where strict justice does not forbid it, warrant the belief that his administration will be very cordially endorsed by the great body of the people.

We repeat the hope, heretofore expressed, that his orders in regard to registration, the qualifications of voters and of delegates to the Convention, will be full and specific. We desire that the acts of our whole people in the work of reconstruction shall fully accord with the law of Congress and the requisition of the Commander. We want no room left for either doubt or delay on the part of Congress in regard to this State. If there are persons in the State, who ought not to take part in the matter of reconstruction, or whose action would be displeasing to Congress or the Commanding General, those persons desire to know it. We repeat: Those whom their assailants denounce by the opprobrious epithet of "rebels," though they have long since ceased all resistance to the government, are not disposed to push themselves forward in the work of reconstruction. They submit to law, whether they esteem the law wise and good, or not, because it is law.

Gen. Sickles will throw no impediments in the way of a fair, full and quiet exercise of the right of every man in the work of reconstruction, nor will he permit others to do it. He will faithfully and fully carry out the law, without prejudice or favoritism to any. This is all we ask.

GOV. VANCE PARDONED.

We could make no announcement, which will be more gratifying to the people of North Carolina, except a few mal-contents, than that furnished by our Washington telegram, that the Hon. Zebulon B. Vance has, upon the recommendation of many persons, been pardoned by the President. The news will be as grateful to our people, as it is deserved by our distinguished fellow citizen. It is true Gov. Vance can derive no immediate practical benefit from the pardon, yet it is pleasing to his friends to know, that so many Northern men heretofore differing with him, united in soliciting his pardon, and the removal of even a technical imputation on his loyalty is a gratification.

We thank President Johnson for the act, and beg leave to assure him that there are other applicants for his clemency, whose pardon would be received by the people of this State with no less sincere pleasure.

GOV. WORTH AT CHARLESTON.

Our telegraphic dispatches, to-day, furnish gratifying intelligence as to the nature and result of the conference, at Charleston, between Govs. Worth and Orr and Gen. Sickles. We have private information that the official interviews between these gentlemen were of the most satisfactory and harmonious character, and that the District commander exhibited a highly courteous and liberal spirit.

Gov. Worth has not yet returned to this city. As soon as he does so, he will doubtless make known, in some form, the arrangements which have been agreed upon relative to the work of re-organization.

Gov. Worth visited Charleston at the invitation of Gen. Sickles. He reached that City on Saturday last, and was met at the Depot by two Aides on the General's Staff, and conducted to the residence of Gen. Sickles, whose guest he was solicited to become.

The Governor was honored by a splendid dinner, at the Mills House, given by his Excellency, Gov. Orr, "in compliment to the Old North State," at which were present Gen. Sickles and the other chief officers of the Army stationed in Charleston.

On Monday morning, Gen. Tyler gave an excursion, on the bay, to Forts Sumter and Pickens, and at 4. P. M. Gen. Sickles gave a complimentary dinner to Govs. Orr and Worth, at which the best cheer and the finest feeling prevailed, and a number of leading gentlemen were present.

EMIGRANTS FROM NORTH CAROLINA TO VENEZUELA.—The schooner United States sailed yesterday for Venezuela with a cargo of about fifteen living souls, destined to settle "for better, for worse," in that yet untried land. The scheme did not prove popular here, and a number of those who were induced to venture their lives were poor miserable creatures who had worn threadbare in this country, and would not be much worse off anywhere. An equal proportion were reckless, dissipated adventurers, some of whom are happy riddances. There were only a few well-to-do, intelligent-looking people in the party.—Wilmington Dispatch.

LOUISVILLE (KY.) ELECTION.—Louisville, Ky., April 7.—Philip Tuppert, the independent Democratic condidate, was re-elected mayor of this city yesterday by 2,018 majority. The total vote polled was 9,073.

UNION COUNTY.

At the recent term of Union County Court, the following appropriate resolutions were adopted:

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA, } UNION COUNTY. }

Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions, April Term.

At a meeting of the magistrates of Union County, on Friday of the April Term of the County Court, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the thanks of the citizens of this County are eminently due and hereby tendered to the citizens of New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and St. Louis, and especially to the Ladies of these cities, for their great kindness in extending such generous relief to the suffering and destitute people of this County.

Resolved, That we shall ever remember with gratitude the kindness and laborious efforts of Gov. Worth and Col. Bomford, in furtherance of the same purpose.

Resolved, That the special Court send to Gov. Worth a copy of these proceedings and respectfully request him to forward them in such way as may seem to him best, and that they be spread upon the records of the Court.

CONFISCATION.—The following extract from an article in the Raleigh Standard of the 6th. escaped our notice at the time of its appearance. We find it alluded to in the Richmond Examiner. We publish it without comment,—simply desiring to call the attention of the Charlotte Democrat and Guardian to it, as they both profess to regard the participants in the late Holdenite meeting as our only hope against confiscation. This extract, taken in connection with the spirit which pervades all the primary meetings of the Holdenites now being held throughout the State, exhibits the true animus of these men:

"The great body of the Northern people, and many of our own people, feel that it would be an act of gross and crying injustice to free the slaves and give them no lands; and that, to say the least, it would be better that the large bodies of land held by Southern rebels be cut up into small farms for the poor whites and the colored people. Revolutions never go backwards, and this revolution has not yet run its course."

GOV. ORR, of South Carolina, in a recent address to the Charleston Board of Trade, thus ventilated the hypocrisy of certain pseudo friends of the colored race, who have constituted themselves the peculiar missionaries for their political enlighten ment:

"Trust no emissary who wishes to hitch you on to any party—who says to you that you must vote so and so. Say to the emissary from Massachusetts, go home, and do not come here and tell me what to do. Under the law of South Carolina, as it now is, whoever made it, every colored men can vote; but in Massachusetts no man can vote who cannot read and write. Tell the missionary from Ohio to enlighten the heathen at home. It is not one month since New Jersey, Ohio and Michigan refused, although they voted for this bill to establish universal suffrage throughout the South, by their Legislatures in solemn conclave to allow colored men to vote. Tell these emissaries, then, to go back and remove the beam from the eyes of their own people, before they come here to remove the mote from the eyes of ours."

ACCEPTANCE OF THE PLAN.

We hear much said, and we read a good deal in the papers, on the question of whether the South will accept the plan of restoration lately devised by Congress.—Much is also to be met with touching the dire consequences which may be expected from our non-acceptance; and nearly the whole stock in trade, of certain classes of wire-pullers, seems to consist in frigl.tful pictures of the results that will follow our refusal to reconstruct according to this plan.

All this strikes us as bordering closely upon absurdity. Why speak of our acceptance or refusal, when the matter is not in the least left to our choice? If the question were left to our decision, it would be worth while to consider what that decison would probably be. Then, also, it might appear a little more logical, if not more becoming, to threaten us with pains and penalties, in case of refusal to acquiesce in the measure. But all this is out of place, as the matter stands. There will be—there can be—no refusal to acquiesce on the part of the Southern people. The machinery of the Sherman bill precludes this. All the initiatory steps in perfecting reconstruction, according to this bill, are taken from us and from our civil officers, and given to the military. It is their duty to see that these steps are taken. They are to register the voters. They are to hold the elections. They are to order the assembling of conventions. The whole programme is in the hands of the military, and if it fails it will be their fault, not ours. If any citizen is contumacious and inclined to oppose the plan, he simply remains unregistered, loses his vote, and has no voice in the case. In short, opposers will count as nothing; the voters, many or few, will act for all and bind all.

For the sake of common sense, then, we beg the world to stop talking about whether we shall "accept" or "refuse" this proposition. We shall not trouble ourselves to do either, lest we be laughed at for our pains. As we understand the situation, General Sickles is appointed to run the machine in District No. 2, and out of such raw material as he may find in the Carolinas, to turn out two bran new, reconstructed States, made to order, and warranted, within a certain space of time. For us to speak of what we will do, is about as absurd as for the cotton and the wool as it enters the factory to debate with itself whether it will be made up into coarse jeans or fine broad-cloth. Probably it will be blue mixed. But whatever may be the kind of web or woof that this machine may turn out, we beg the world to lay it to the charge of the jenny and loom, and not to the passive material that is to be worked up.—Old North State.

A PAINTED LIE.—In Carpenter's picture of the "Death Bed of President Lincoln," Speaker Colfax appears as one of the personages present. The artist has falsified history to gratify malignant partisan prejudice. Mr. Colfax was not present at Lincoln's death, and to the discredit of Mr. Carpenter it is stated that in the original picture President Johnson was painted, in accordance with fact. But truckling to the base prejudices of the Radicals, the artist painted out Mr. Johnson, and painted in a lie, in the shape of Colfax, and sends forth his "historical painting" with a falsehood in its front. There's Radicalism for you.—St. Louis Republican.

The Washington Chronicle contains an editorial endorsing the Southern Orphan Association and commending it to the encouragement of all parties.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE STEVENS-SHERMAN-SHELLABARGER BILL.

AN ACT supplemental to an act entitled an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2, 1867, and to facilitate re-toration.

Be it enacted &c., That before the first day of September, 1867, the commanding general in each district defined by the act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, approved March 2, 1867, shall cause a registration to be made of the male citizens of the United States, twenty-one years of age, and upwards, resident in each county or parish in the State or States included in his district, which registration will include only those persons who are qualified to vote for delegates by the act aforesaid, and who shall have taken and subscribed the following oath or affirmation:

"I, ——, do solemnly swear, or affirm, in the presence of Almighty God, that I am a citizen of the State of ——; that I have resided in said State for —— months next preceding this day, and now reside in the county of ——, or the parish of ——, in said State, as the case may be; that I am 21 years old; that I have not been disfranchised for participation in any rebellion or civil war against the United States, nor for felony committed against the laws of any State or of the United States; that I have never been a member of any State Legislature, or held any executive or judicial office in any State, and afterwards engaged in insurrection and rebellion against the United States, and given aid or co efort to the enemies thereof; that I have never taken an oath as a member of Congress of the United States, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, and afterwards engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I will faithfully support the Constitution and obey the laws of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, encourage others so to do. So help me God."

which oath or affirmation may be administered by any registering officer.

Sec. 2. That after the completion of the registration hereby provided for in any State at such time and place therein as the commanding general shall appoint and direct, of which at least thirty day's public notice shall be given, an election shall be held of delegates to a convention for the purpose of establishing a constitution and civil government for such State loyal to the Union; said convention in each State, except Virginia, to consist of the same number of members as the most numerous branch of the State Legislature of such State in the year 1864, to be apportioned among the several districts, counties, or parishes of such State by the commanding general, giving to each, representation in the ratio of voters registered as aforesaid as nearly as may be. The convention in Virginia shall consist of the same number of members as represented the territory now constituting Virginia in the most numerous branch of the Legislature of said State in the year 1860, to be apportioned as aforesaid.

Sec. 3. That at such election the registered voters of each State shall vote for or against a convention to form a constitution thereof under this act. Those voting in favor of such a convention shall have written or printed on the ballots by which they vote for delegates, as aforesaid, the words "for a convention;" and those voting against such a convention shall have written or printed on such ballots the words "against a convention." The persons appointed to superintend said election, and to make return of the votes given thereat, as herein provided, shall count and make return of the votes given for and against a convention; and the commanding general, to whom the same shall have been returned, shall ascertain and declare the total vote in each State for and against a convention. If a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, then a convention shall be held, as hereinafter provided; but if a majority of said votes shall be against a convention, then no convention shall be held under this act: Provided, That such convention shall not be held unless a majority of all such registered voters shall have voted on the question of holding such convention.

Sec. 4. That the commanding general of each district shall appoint such loyal officers or persons as may be necessary, not exceeding three in each election district, in any State, to make and complete the registration, superintend the election, and make return to him of the votes, lists of voters and of the persons elected as delegates by a plurality of the votes cast at said election; and upon receiving said returns he shall open the same, ascertain the persons elected as delegates according to the returns of the officers who conducted said election, and make proclamation thereof; and if a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, the commanding general, within sixty days from the date of election, shall notify the delegates to assemble in convention at a time and place to be mentioned in the notification, and said convention, when organized, shall proceed to frame a Constitution and civil government according to the provisions of this act, and the act to which it is supplementary; and when the same shall have been so framed, said Constitution shall be submitted by the convention for ratification to the persons registered under the provisions of this act, at an election to be conducted by the officers, or persons appointed by the commanding general as hereinbefore provided, and to be held after the expiration of thirty days from the date of notice thereof to be given by said convention, and the returns thereof shall be made to the commanding general of the district.

Sec. 5 That if, according to said returns, the constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the votes of the registered electors qualified as herein specified, cast at said election, at least one-half of all the registered voters voting upon the question of such ratification, the president of the convention shall transmit a copy of the same, duly certified, to the President of the United States, who shall forthwith transmit the same to Congress, if then in session, and if not in session, then immediately upon its next assembling; and if it shall moreover appear to Congress that the election was one at which all the registered and qualified electors in the State had an opportunity to vote freely and without restraint, fear or the influence of fraud, and if Congress shall be satisfied that such constitution meets the approval of a majority of the qualified electors in the State, and if the said constitution shall be declared by Congress to be in conformity with the provisions of the act to which this is supplementary, and the other provisions of said act shall have been complied with, and the said constitution shall be approved by Congress, the State shall be declared entitled to r. presentation, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom as herein provided.

Sec. 6. That all elections in the States mentioned in the said "Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States," shall, during the operation of said act, be by ballot; and all officers making the said registration of voters and conducting said elections shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, subscribe an oath faithfully to perform the duties of their said office, and the oath prescribed by the act approved July 2, 1862, entitled "An act to prescribe an oath of office:" Provided, That if any person shall knowingly and falsely take and subscribe any oath in this act prescribed, such person so offending, and being thereof duly convicted, shall be subject to the pains, penalties and disabilities which by law are provided for the punishment of the crime of wilful and corrupt perjury.

Sec. 7. That all expenses incurred by the several commanding generals, or by virtue of any orders issued or appointments made by them under or by virtue of this act, shall be paid out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Sec. 8. That the convention for each State shall prescribe the fees, salary, and compensation to be paid to all delegates and other officers and agents herein authorized or necessary to carry into effect the purposes of this act, not herein otherwise provided for, and shall provide for the levy and collection of such taxes on the property in such State as may be necessary to pay the same.

Sec. 9. That the word "article" in the sixth section of the act to which this is supplementary shall be construed to mean "section."

STRANGER'S SUNDAY HOME.—Rev. Dr. Deems, formerly of North Carolina, has, during the last year, conducted divine service every Sabbath day in the small chapel of the University, in Washington square. The services have been very largely attended by strangers of different denominations, and lately the attendance has so largely increased that a number of wealthy merchants in the city have determined to rent a larger chapel, in which services shall be held every Sunday morning and evening, not only by Dr. Deems, but also by clergymen of different denominations, whose ministrations shall be more especially for the benefit of that large class of persons who have not yet made any permanent ecclesiastical arrangements.—New York Herald.

A Boston contemporary raises a howl and a sneer over an old gentleman who, having had his pocket book full of "millers" or thousand dollar notes returned to him, gave the returner no reward. Our contemporary has no idea of being honest unless it pays.

Chief Justice Chase has assured ex-Governor Hahn, of Louisana, that a rule will be adopted by the Supreme Court, providing that a plantation, sold under the bankrupt law proceedings, may be subdivided and sold in small lots to suit the convenience of purchasers.

PROVISIONAL PHILANTHROPY.

Mr. Sumner's motion in the Senate last week, that no money be appropriated to the repairs of the levees in any State "until the same (the levees?) shall have been readmitted to the Union upon the basis of equal rights and the elective franchise, and free schools, without distinction of color," was "received with shouts of laughter."—Presuming that the report is not exactly correct, and that Mr. Sumner intended to propose a law declaring that until the States lying upon the Mississippi river accede to universal suffrage and free schools, without distinction of color, et cetera, they shall be condemned to have their lands overflowed, and an immense amount of property destroyed, we do not think the true object of the proposition is in any way creditable to the humanity of the Senator from Massachusetts. The South may be somewhat stubborn upon political matters, and its people unable to see things exactly through Mr. Sumner's spectacles; but the proposition that until they do precisely all that the very exacting notions of Mr. Sumner requires, they shall be punished by floods and loss of property, as well as the risk of loss of life, is certainly not indicative of humanity on the part of the proposer of such restriction.—Phil. Inquirer.

The motto of the former is:

"Fearless alike of friends or foes.
We'll sketch the world exactly as it goes."

The motto of the latter is:

"Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty—the price of the Expositor is three dollars a year."

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

TO ADVERTISERS.—The public will find the Sentinel one of the best mediums of advertising in the State. Its circulation covers a larger area, perhaps, than any other paper.

THE LATE PROFESSOR PHILLIPS.

RALEIGH, April 4th., 1867.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Trustees of the University, at the Executive office:

Present—His Excellency Gov. Worth Chairman, Daniel M. Barringer, Kemp P. Battle, Thomas Bragg, John H. Bryan, Charles Manly, Bartholomew F. Moore:

The following announcement was made by the Secretary, and the following resolutions adopted on the motion of Col. Barringer:

The Rev. James Phillips, D. D., the Senior Professor in this Institution, departed this life in the 75th. year of his age, on the morning of the 14th. ult. He was the first to enter the Chapel and take his accustomed seat, with his recitation room key and text book for the morning recitation in his hand. He died almost instantly, without a struggle or a groan, in the very spot, where, at stated intervals during more than thirty years, he had risen to lead in the religious services of the Institution. The last sounds in his ear were the familiar tones of the College bell, the last object of sight the students assembling for prayers.

Dr. Phillips was born in England 22nd. April, 1792, came to this country in 1815, was appointed Professor of Mathematics and Natural Philosophy, over eminent competitions, in May, and entered upon the performance of his duties in July, 1826.—He never failed to meet his class, at the appointed hour, from any cause, during the first ten years, was rarely absent during the remaining thirty-one of his service, and never except from unavoidable causes, or while with the concurrence of the authorities of the University engaged in the performance of higher duties. He filled his Professorship during a longer period than any of his predecessors, with learning, fidelity and ability rarely equalled and never surpassed in the department of service to which his life was devoted.

In the opinion of the committee, the authorities of the University, and the people of North Carolina, are deeply indebted for the long continued and eminent services of the deceased Professor, and as offering grateful evidence of their appreciation of his worth,

Resolved, That the Rev. Professor Hepburn be requested to deliver a funeral oration before the Trustees, Faculty and students of the University, in Girard Hall, on the day immediately preceding the performance of the commencement exercises, and that the public be respectfully requested to unite with them in the bestowment of appropriate funeral honors.

2. That the salary be continued and paid to the legal representatives of the deceased until the close of the present session, and that his family be respectfully and affectionately invited to remain in the possession of the premises, so long occupied by him, until the close of the year.

FOR THE SOUTH.—A negro man, who has been living in our city for some time, left yesterday for South Carolina, preferring his old State and friends to the cold winds and cold blooded puritanism of the North. He takes along his wife, whom he married here a few months ago. We learn he is worthy and industrious.—Canton [Ohio] Democrat.

The University of South Carolina has just closed its examinations for the March session. Owing to the unsettled condition of the State, the number of students in attendance is limited. There are ten professors, ninety-three students, and three resident graduates. The library contains 25,000 volumes. The present year closes in June, and the next collegiate year commences on the first Monday in October.

A lady leaving home was thus addressed by her little boy: "Mamma, do remember and buy me a penny whistle, and let it be a religious one, so that I can use it on Sunday."

For the Sentinel.

THE CIRCUS.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Ever since the circus left Raleigh, I have had my eye upon my fellow-townsmen, to see if there was any change in their morals for the better or worse. What put me upon this office was the new and remarkable statement made in the advertisement that "the managers * * would meet the approbation and cordial support of the intellectual, refined and religious portion of the community." The italics are strictly copied from the advertisement; let no one, therefore, charge the writer with giving emphasis to such an uncommon announcement. The great design of these pious managers was to enlighten and inform our ignorant and vicious population! Such a purpose, I confess, surprised me a good deal. It was directly contrary to all my former prejudices, which had led me to consider a circus as nothing less than a most pernicious nursery of vice. Now, however, that I have been undeceived, I very naturally look to those who are accustomed to frequent this excellent school, as good examples for our imitation. This is the more to be expected, inasmuch as they received their instruction, not by precept only, but by example also. They have had the advantage of seeing modesty, chastity, and every moral virtue personified in the pavilion on Nash square. The more favored disciples, no doubt, have made the most rapid progress in the divine life.

It is true that such worthies, as the managers and performers of a circus, were expelled from Athens, and afterwards from Rome, by a formal decree of the Senate, on the pretence that they corrupted the morals of the youth. But this must have been discovered to be a mistake, for they were again recalled to Rome and permitted to exhibit in the city for a limited time. Besides, those actors were not Christians, but were buffoons into the bargain, when compared with ours.

It cannot be denied, too, that in more modern times, circus-actors have been held in a very unfavorable light. I recollect reading a story, a few days ago, in the Spectator, (who reads that good old book, now?) that, in London, a Quaker gentleman, by the name of Hezekiah Broadbrim, lodged a complaint against them. By some means or other, his wife and daughter had been to the circus. Hezekiah found it out, and complained "that, ever since, his daughter Tabitha had been waxing wanton, and even the wife of his bosom had betrayed symptoms of levity."

I acknowledge, I never was at one of these "intellectual, refined and religious" exhibitions; but I am told that they sometimes interlard their performances with expressions of their own, that, besides being exceedingly foolish, are downright smutty and obscene. Now this does not seem to me to be exactly moral, to say nothing about 'religious'; but for their justification in this particular, it has been alleged that they only did this in order "to please the spectators," on whom they depend for their bread. If so, it is most evident, not that the actors corrupted the people, but that the people corrupted the actors. Surely it was a very cruel thing thus to contaminate these "intellectual, refined, and religious" performers. Possibly it was the fear that they might become totally demoralized, that operated upon the managers to leave our city after staying only one day and night, and give us up to ourselves.

But notwithstanding my wish to apologize for these "intellectual, refined and religious managers" and performers, as far as regard to truth and justice might permit, I must confess there is one thing for which, if true, I can imagine no excuse—and that is, females come out before the spectators in a style of dress, that no decent matron or maiden would be seen to wear in the presence of their families or friends. Is this an evidence of the new fashioned refinement and religion? I say nothing about the dogs and the monkeys and the bears; and their "intellectual, refined and religious" performances. From what I am told, they and the managers or performers were about on a par in respect to these endowments.—"Birds of a feather, &c."

ELECTIONS IN THE STATES OF NORTH AND SOUTH CAROLINA.

We find the following order in the Charleston papers:

"HDQRS., SECOND MILITARY DISTRICT,
"(NORTH AND SOUTH CAROLINA,)
"CHARLESTON, S. C., April 1, 1867.
[General Orders No. 5.]

"When an election for district, county, municipal or town officers is required to take place, in accordance with the provisions of the local law, within the limits of any post in this command, Command Officers will promptly report to these headquarters the time and place of such election and the designation of the offices to be filled.

"If the present incumbents be ineligible to hold office, or any objection exist, arising out of their misconduct in office, to the continuance of their function, the facts will be reported by the Post Commander, with his suggestions, having in view the interests of the service and the welfare of the locality mentioned immediately concerned.

Official: ALEXANDER MOORE,

BRUTAL MURDER.—We learn that Mr. Benj. F. Withers, living near Beattie's Ford in Lincoln county, was murdered on the 2d instant by a man named John Owens, who is said to have formerly lived near Charleston, S. C. The facts are these, as we learn them: Withers was at a store at Beattie's Ford with horse and buggy. Owens got into Withers' buggy to ride home. After leaving Owens at his own house, and as Withers was about to drive on, the buggy struck Owens on the leg of run over his foot, which so enraged him (being partly intoxicated) that he went into his house, got a double barrel gun, followed Withers and killed him by knocking him on the head with the gun. He afterwards boasted of the deed, and for some time refused to let the relatives or friends of Withers take charge of the corpse. He is said to be a desperate character and a terror to the neighborhood. Mr. Withers was about 55 years old.

We have been furnished with the following description of Owens, which we hope may lead to his arrest:

"Owens is about 5 feet 10 inches high, with short body and long legs; weighs about 135 pounds; hair light brown; light gray eyes; complexion originally fair, but now tanned; sharp featured and thin face; high cheek bones; low receding forehead; large ears, and one eye seems slightly damaged, which can only be noticed by close examination; forward in his address; soft voice and fond of talking; round shouldered; lounging, swaggering gait, and some scars on the side of the neck. He is about 30 years of age."

Owens was seen near this place on Saturday, and his horse was captured, but he himself escaped.—Charlotte Democrat.

The old Capitol at Washington has been sold for $30,000 to the New York Hotel company, who intend to erect a large and splendid hotel on the site.

GOVS. WORTH AND ORR AT CHARLESTON.

CHARLESTON, April 9.

The conference between Gen. Sickles and Govs. Worth and Orr, to arrange the preliminary details of reorganization in North and South Carolina, resulted as follows:

The details of registration will be immediately prepared by direction of Gen. Sickles, and put into operation as soon as persons can be found to act in the proper capacity who are qualified under the provisions of the Supplemental bill. No elections for municipal or State officers will be held in either of the States, until the Conventions shall adopt new Constitutions. No civil officers will be removed, who faithfully discharge their duties.—Whenever vacancies occur, by reason of the expiration of the tenure of office, resignation or otherwise, they will be filled by appointments to be made by the Governors of these States, if the officers are of a character elected by the General Assemblies, unless special reasons to the contrary should arise, or by the commanding General, if they are of a class elected by popular suffrage.

WASHINGTON, April 9, P. M.

Agricultural Commissioner Newton has appointed Hon. Theodore C. Peters, of Maryland, and lately President of the New York Agricultural Society, agent for the distribution of seeds in the South, to perfect the Southern agricultural correspondence and to co-operate in the reorganization and improvement of Southern Agriculture.

In the Senate, a resolution was passed directing the Secretary of War to report the name and rank of the volunteer officers now in the service, under what law they are retained and whether their muster out would be detrimental to the service.

Hon. James A. Bayard has been appointed Senator from Delaware, vice Mr. Riddle, deceased.

The people of Maryland will vote, to-morrow, for or against the Convention.

The Democrats and Conservatives have carried the Hagerstown municipal election.

The vote rejecting Gen. Sol. Meredith was reconsidered, and he was confirmed Surveyor General of Montana.

The Russian American treaty was favorably reported upon by the committee on Foreign relations. After a brief discussion, it was confirmed there being only two or three dissenting voices.

The President has nominated Hon Jno. P. Stockton as Austrian Minister, and Col. Capron, of Illinois, Commissioner of Agriculture.

The receipts for Internal revenue to-day are over $700,000.

The President has pardoned Hon. Z. B. Vance late Governor of North Carolina, on the recommendation of twelve senators, twenty-eight Representatives, Govs. Bramlette, Sharkey, and Parsons, Mayor Hoffman, and Horace Greeley.

Mr. Louis Schade, who defended Wirz, has addressed a letter to the American people, alleging Wirz's innocence.

The Austrian Minister, on the 5th. inst., announced to Secretary Seward that he was instructed to ask the good offices of the United States government, to secure a safe treatment of Maximilian and his followers, in the event of their falling into the hands of the Liberals at Queretaro! On the 6th., Mr. Seward replied that he had telegraphed Minister Campbell to send a swift messenger to Juarez, conveying the request that all possible leniency be extended towards the expected prisoners. And, also, that he had placed a copy of his instructions in the hands of Minister Romero, who had promised to inform Juarez of the wishes of the United States government. On the same day, Minister Campbell telegraphed that he had forwarded the messenger, as instructed.

Cotton continues heavy. Some failures in trade are reported.

Hon. Robert Toombs, who is now quietly remaining at his home at Washington, Wilkes county, Georgia, in a private letter to a friend in this place, says he prefers to remain here, with all our political disadvantages, to living any where else in the world.

Well, that is just our opinion. All true patriots of the South should never forsake their native land for other climes merely for political troubles. Let us remain here and endeavor, by the favor of God, to build up our waste places, made so by our own indiscretion, continued so by a heartless and unchristian majority at the North. Mr. Toombs has tried foreign climes, and does not find rest except on the old red hills of Georgia, whither he has returned to spend the evening of his life in quiet repose.—La Grange Rt. Porter.

GRAND CHARITABLE

PRESENTATION CONCERT,

IN AID OF THE Southern Orphan Association.

Incorporated by the Legislature of Virginia, January 30, 1867.

TO BE GIVEN AT THE

MARYLAND INSTITUTE

BALTIMORE,

APRIL 30th. 1867

THE PROFITS OF THIS CONCERT WILL BE GIVEN TO THE SOUTHERN ORPHANS' ASSOCIATION, TO THE SUBJOINED ADDRESS, FROM THE OFFICERS OF WHICH, WE CALL THE ATTENTION OF THE PUBLIC:

"We, the Officers of the Southern Orphans' Association, for the maintenance and education of the destitute orphans of deceased Southern soldiers and sailors, earnestly solicit the sympathy and co-operation in our

Grand Presentation Concert,

Of all who desire to see the

"HOME AND SCHOOL"

enabled to receive and care for all the needy ones who seek its shelter and protection.

Thanking our friends for their past contributions and assistance, we again appeal to them to help us in a more extensive enterprise. It is the design of this Association to erect a for the orphans of the South, both male and female, on an extensive scale, in the city of Richmond, Virginia. As an inducement to have the building located there, the Common Council of that city have guaranteed a sufficient lot of land, in an elevated and healthful location, and will increase the quantity of land if needed.

It is with a confident hope in a favorable response to this appeal to a public which has never yet failed to sustain a charitable institution, that we have entered into an arrangement with Messrs. L T PALMER & Co., No. 13 Holliday street, Baltimore, to organize a Grand Musical Presentation Concert for its benefit, and earnestly solicit the kindly aid and patronage of the public to ensure its success.

(Signed)
Mrs. J. L. HAMMOND, President.
Mrs. Dr. J. B. BEAN, Vice President.
Mrs. E. A. F. MEARS, Treasurer.
Mrs. Dr. A. G. KIMBERLY, Cor. Secretary.
Mr. J. H. SCHIERS, Recording Secretary.
Dr. A. G. KIMBERLY, Financial Secretary.
H. C. DALLAM, Esq., Counsellor.

BALTIMORE, Feb. —, 1867.

TRUSTEES.

Mrs. CHAS. McCUBBIN, Baltimore, Md.
Mrs. Hon. JAS. LYONS, Richmond, Va.
Mrs. JAS. THOMAS, Richmond, Va.
Mrs. THOS. BRANCH, Richmond, Va.

It may seem unnecessary to add a single word to the above address, but calls upon the Institution have been so numerous and pressing, and the struggle through which it is now passing to widen the circle of its charities is of such an arduous nature, that the management cannot too strongly urge upon the

HUMANE AND PATHETIC

everywhere, an active participation in this additional attempt to alleviate the sad condition of great numbers of helpless children, rendered thus by the terrible war through which we have passed. And, assuredly, whatever may have been the relative political views of ladies and gentlemen heretofore, all must agree that the children referred to, could not, by any possibility, have had any agency in bringing about their present

DEPLORABLE AND DESTITUTE CONDITION, and are suitable objects for the charity of all persons of whatever shade of political opinion. The

"HOME AND SCHOOL"

which they now more particularly seek to establish and endow, will be of incalculable benefit by providing not only food and raiment for these helpless ones, but likewise solid and thorough education, thus qualifying them for Future Usefulness to Society at Large.

In order that this appeal may be effectual in enlisting the active interest and co-operation of all classes of persons everywhere, we have concluded to issue for the Grand Presentation Musical Concert,

THE SENTINEL.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 10, 1867.

SPRING IS COMING.

I know it by the hyacinths
Which now begin to blow,
And fitting voices strangely sweet
And tremulously low,
By something purer in the sun,
And softer in the twilight stars,
That Spring will soon be here.

The almanacs are well enough
For gardeners and for cooks—
I seek the seasons in the sky,
And find them by the brooks;
I hear them on the breezy hills,
And in the hollows see
The token-flowers and signs that speak
Their messages to me.

And thus I glean from gleaning bees
Of music in the West;
From wavings of untiring wings
That will not go to rest;
From spells of fragrance spiced afar,
And peeping spears of green,
And silver bugles in the wind,
The advent of a Queen!

I know it by the hyacinths
Which now begin to blow,
That Winter on his icy bed
Is dead or nearly so,
And soon will come, with daisy curls,
Led by the laughing hours,
The blue-eyed daughter of the Sun,
In glorifying showers!

Scenes of a new domestic drama:—Scene 1. Mother in the cellar splitting wood. Scene 2. Daughter in the parlor singing to a well-dressed simpleton the pathetic ballad "Who shall care for mother now?"

A young lady being requested by an old bachelor to take a seat upon his knee, in a crowded sleigh, made the following reply: "No, thank you; I'm afraid such an old seat would break down with me."

A country exchange, in announcing the prospective completion of a railroad, says:—"We feel confident that the steam steed will wend its way through our emerald vales ere the leafy livery of nature dons the sober hues of autumn."

George III., speaking to the Archbishop Sutton of his large family, used the expression, "I believe your Grace has better than a dozen?" "No, sire," replied the Archbishop, "only eleven." "Well," replied the King; "is not that better than a dozen?"

One hundred and fifty Texan emigrants, having suffered shipwreck on their way to Brazil, are now domiciled at the Collins Hotel, Hoboken, and are in want of the commonest necessaries of life. They have all been vaccinated, by order of the Board of Health.

In Pennsylvania they have a new license law—no selling, giving away, or in any way supplying liquor, to persons under twenty-one years of age, nor to drunkards, nor to any one on Sunday. It is acceptable to the people and appears to be well guarded against abuse.

"There must be a terrible state of things in Mexico," said a visitor to our sanctum recently. "Why, what's up now?" said we.—"You don't know!" he remarked with apparent surprise. "Why I see it stated that a gentleman just returned from Mexico says that things are nearly as bad there as they are in the United States."

"As I was going over the bridge the other day," said a native of Erin, "I met Pat Hewins. 'Hewins,' says I, 'how are you?' 'Thank you, Donnelly,' says he. 'Donnelly,' says I, 'that's not my name.' 'Faith, then, no more is mine Hewins.' So with that we looked at each other again, an' sure enough it was nayther of us."

Congressional Reconstruction Acts.

For the information of our readers we republish as follows the late reconstruction act of Congress, known as the Sherman-Shellabarger bill. We shall add to it the Howard Amendment, Test Oath and the Supplementary act, all of which will be kept standing until the necessary information they contain shall be generally and fully understood.

THE RECONSTRUCTION ACT.

AN ACT to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States.

[Passed over the President's Veto, March 2d, 1867.]

WHEREAS, no legal State governments or adequate protection for life or property now exists in the rebel States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Florida, Texas, and Arkansas; and whereas it is necessary that peace and good order should be enforced in said States until loyal and Republican State Governments can be legally established; Therefore,

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That said rebel States shall be divided into military districts and made subject to the military authority of the United States, as hereinafter prescribed, and for that purpose Virginia shall constitute the first district; North Carolina and South Carolina the second district; Georgia, Alabama and Florida the third district; Mississippi and Arkansas the fourth district; and Louisiana and Texas the fifth district.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the President to assign to the command of each of said districts an officer of the army, not below the rank of Brigadier general, and to detail a sufficient military force to enable such officer to perform his duties and enforce his authority within the district to which he is assigned.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of each officer assigned as aforesaid to protect all persons in their rights of person and property, to suppress insurrection, disorder and violence, and to punish or cause to be punished all disturbers of the public peace and criminals, and to this end he may allow local civil tribunals to take jurisdiction of and to try offenders, or when in his judgment it may be necessary for the trial of offenders, he shall have power to organize military commissions or tribunals for that purpose, and all interference, under color of State authority, with the exercise of military authority under this act shall be null and void.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That all persons put under military arrest by virtue of this act shall be tried without unnecessary delay, and no cruel or unusual punishment shall be inflicted; and no sentence of any military commission or tribunal hereby authorized, affecting the life or liberty of any person, shall be executed until it is approved by the officer in command of the district, and the laws and regulations for the government of the army shall not be affected by this act, except in so far as they conflict with its provisions. Provided, That no sentence of death, under the provisions of this act, shall be carried into effect without the approval of the President.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That when the people of any one of said rebel States shall have formed a constitution of government in conformity with the Constitution of the United States in all respects, framed by a convention of delegates elected by the male citizens of said State, twenty one years old and upwards, of whatever race, color or previous condition, who have been resident in said State for one year previous to the day of such election, except such as may be disfranchised for participation in the rebellion, or for felony at common law; and when such constitution shall provide that the elective franchise shall be enjoyed by all such persons as have the qualifications herein stated for electors of delegates; and when such constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such Constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such constitution shall have been submitted to Congress for examination and approval, and Congress shall have approved the same; and when the said State, by a vote of its legislature, elected under said constitution, shall have adopted the amendment to the constitution of the United States, proposed by the Thirty-ninth Congress, and known as article fourteen; and when said article shall have become a part of the constitution of the United States, said State shall be declared entitled to representation in Congress, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom, on their taking the oath prescribed by law; and then and thereafter the preceding sections of this act shall be inoperative in said State. Provided, That no person excluded from the privilege of holding office by said amendment to the constitution of the United States shall be eligible to election as a member of the convention to frame a constitution for any of said rebel States, nor shall any such person vote for members of such convention.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That until the people of said rebel States shall be by law admitted to representation in the Congress of the United States, any civil government which may exist therein shall be deemed provisional only, and in all respects subject to the paramount authority of the United States at any time to abolish, modify, control or supersede the same; and in all elections to any office under such provisional governments all persons shall be entitled to vote, and none others, who are entitled to vote under the provisions of the fifth section of this act; and no person shall be eligible to any office under such provisional governments who would be disqualified from holding office under the provisions of the third article of said constitutional amendment.

SCHUYLER COLFAX,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
LAFAYETTE S. FOSTER,
President of the Senate pro tem.

The following is the Constitutional Amendment referred to in the 4th section of the Sherman Bill:

Proposed Constitutional Amendment.

ARTICLE XIV.

Section 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

Sec. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice-President of the United States, representatives in Congress, executive and judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State being twenty-one years of age and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

Sec. 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid and comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

Sec. 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims, shall be held illegal and void.

Sec. 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article.

The following is the oath of office referred to in the 5th section of the bill, and also in the 6th of the Supplementary Bill:

An Act to Prescribe an Oath of Office and for Other Purposes.

Be it enacted, That hereafter any person elected or appointed to any office of honor or profit under the government of the United States, either in the civil, military or naval department of the public service, except the President of the United States, shall before entering upon the duties of such office, and before being entitled to any of the salary or other emolument thereof, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation: "I, A B, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have never voluntarily borne arms against the U. S. since I have been a citizen thereof; that I have voluntarily given no aid, countenance, counsel or encouragement to persons engaged in armed hostility thereto; that I have never sought nor accepted, nor attempted to exercise the functions of any office whatever, under any authority, or pretended authority, in hostility to the United States; that I have not yielded a voluntary support to any pretended government, power or constitution within the United States, hostile or inimical thereto; and I do further swear (or affirm) that to the best of my knowledge and ability, I will support and defend the constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion, and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which I am about to enter. So help me God," which oath, so taken and signed, shall be preserved among the files of the Court, Houses of Congress, or the department to which said officer may appertain. And any person who may falsely take said oath shall be guilty of perjury, and on conviction, in addition to the penalties now prescribed for that offence, shall be deprived of his office and rendered incapable, forever after, of holding any office or place under the United States.

Approved July 2, 1862

The Fall Session of this Institution closed 23rd. day of December. The Spring Session opened the 1st. Wednesday in January, and will continue 20 weeks.

The success of this school has been without a parallel. A new building has just been completed, by which a large additional number can be accommodated. We are determined to make our pupils as comfortable as they can be made anywhere, and to afford them all the advantage for a thorough and extensive education, that can be found at any First class Female College, North or South.

The location is a most delightful one. The Mineral Water is too well known to the whole country to need a remark. Even invalid young ladies may secure a thorough education, and at the same time the restoration of their health. Reference is made to every intelligent Physician in the State, as well as to the hundreds who have found relief here.

The young ladies all worship in the College Chapel, and hence no extra clothing is required.—In the single item of dress parents can save 25 per cent. of the entire expense incurred by sending to Boarding Schools located in cities or villages. This Institution is certainly one of the cheapest and most easy of access in the Southern States.—Besides, it offers the most superior advantages in every respect.
